TITLE : SNACK CONTAINER

ABSTRACT : PROBLEM TO BE SOLVED: To provide a flavoring or premium-attached low-priced snack container which is small in the entire volume while being available for easy taking-out of the flavoring or premium.

SOLUTION: The upper end opening 12a of a cup-shaped container main body 12 for housing a snack therein and the brim of the upper end opening 16a of a vessel-shaped housing container 16 for housing a flavoring or a premium to be attached to the snack therein are separably stuck tightly together with a sheet-like lid body 14. The lid body 14 is peeled off from the vessel-shaped housing container 16 after being peeled off and separated from the container main body 12. The vessel-shaped housing container 16 has an outer cylindrical part 16b approximately in a ring-like shape which is housed in the upper part of the container main body 12 for tightly fitting to a surrounding wall part 12b of the container main body 12.
